Q & A

Fashion Edition of the Seeking, Getting & KEEPING the Job Series

1. What does Mission Accomplished do?

Mission Accomplished helps millennials (ages 13-35) with researching and securing employment and internship opportunities; researching and applying for college, vocational training and other advanced professional training; preparing for interviews; completing applications; creating resumes; writing college personal statements; find alternative school options and much more related to the transition from school to career. Our programs are customized to meet the personal and professional development needs of our customers.

2. Are scholarships available?

Yes, scholarships are available for individuals who show economic need. Please contact us for more details. 518-207-0209

3. How will this help your career path?

This intensive career development series is tailored to meet the demands of the fashion industry rather than general workforce development needs. You will learn how to present yourself in a way that is attractive to fashion employers and higher education institutions. Because this series is fashion-centric you will be exposed to professionals within the industry who will to teach you what you truly need to know to survive and thrive.

4. Will I have a job/internship by the end of this?

This opportunity is dependent on your commitment to demonstrating important professional capabilities (i.e. punctuality, eager to learn, creative, willing to work in a team, etc.) demanded by employers and your ability to bring value to the company. Our goal is to connect you with an internship or job by the end of this series. This all depends on how well you demonstrate the skills desired by employers. Potential employers will join us throughout the program.

5. What is the selection process?

Applicants are selected based on the quality of their essay, ability to demonstrate a true passion to work in the fashion industry and ability to articulate what/who inspires them to become a fashion professional.

Missioned to prepare aspiring young professionals for the global economy, by providing access to coaching, job training and professional development.

6. Will transportation be provided for the business trips?

Yes, transportation will be provided for the NYC and Capital Region business trips.

7. Do I have to be in high school or college?

No. This program is for all emerging fashion icons who show a true passion and desire to work in the industry.

8. Is a payment plan available?

Yes, you can make weekly or monthly payments until the first day of class. All payments must be paid in full by the first day of class.

9. What happens if I am late or miss class?

If you miss more than two classes, you will be disqualified from participating in certain exclusive opportunities. If you are late twice it counts as one absence.

This program is designed to prepare you for the professional world. It is very important to be punctual. Late arrivals and absences disrupts the opportunity to build supportive, meaningful professional relationships and demonstrates to potential employers or internship sites that you are unreliable!

10. Will I have homework?

Yes, we will suggest homework assignments. However, you will not be assigned homework at the end of each session.
